

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT FOR THE STATE OF ALASKA
AT FAIRBANKS

_____))
Plaintiff,) vs.) CASE NO. _____)
_____))
Defendant.)
_____)
ORDER FOR MEDIATION THROUGH
THE CHILD CUSTODY AND VISITATION MEDIATION PROGRAM

Mediation was requested by one or both parties, or proposed by the court. The court advised the parties that participation in mediation is voluntary and a decision not to mediate will not bias other decisions by the court.

FINDINGS

The court finds that mediation is appropriate because:

1. There are issues about minor child custody or visitation in this case.
2. The combined net income of the parties is under $100,000 per year:
Plaintiff's annual net income: $ _____
Defendant's annual net income: $ _____
3. There are no active domestic violence protective orders concerning the parties; and a mediation order is permitted under Civil Rule 100, AS 25.20.080, AS 25.24.060, AS 25.24.140, and
 There are no allegations of domestic violence concerning the parties; or
 There are allegations of domestic violence concerning the parties but:
 - The victim agreed to mediate; and
 - The victim may bring an attorney or other person to mediation sessions; and
 - The mediator is trained in domestic violence issues as required by statute.

ORDER

A. _____ is appointed mediator in this case. Mediation is scheduled to take place on _____ at _____ am pm in room 312, Rabinowitz Courthouse, 101 Lacey Street. Please reserve 3 hours for this appointment.

-or-

The Custody Investigator's Office will assign a mediator. The mediator will contact the parties to schedule the mediation session(s). Both parties have confirmed that their contact information in this order is correct.

B. Mediation sessions are confidential. No person, including the mediator, may testify about the mediation proceedings. This order does not, however, relieve any person of a duty imposed by statute.

C. Mediation briefs may not be submitted.

D. Both parties must attend an initial joint or separate session, unless the mediator decides that mediation is not appropriate or is not likely to succeed.
